Carl Moroney, noted for his ape-calls, did a fine job, assisted by brother Art Sturdley.

Sigma Pis whirled through a tremendous social season, moved not by an inner spirit, but rather by "Brutus," their 150 pound great dane. Their famed initiation dance was held at the Santa Ynez Inn, and equally well remembered is the post party at 1620 Purdue. Their Pajamarino and Parisienne party were two of the biggest blasts on campus. Their Frontier Party was undeniably a success. In fact, their whole social program was quite eventful. Kurt Kenworth was busy as chairman of UCLA's Spring Sing. Skip Keysers was on Dublin Ball committee. Robert Seaman gained nation-wide acclaim as an outstanding half-miler and joined forces with Chuck McCrary in Yeomen. Bob Jones was claimed by Kelps. Uni-camp Committee, and the track team. UCLA's number one football team was bolstered by the talents of Warner Benjamin. Sigma Pis enjoyed a great season.

Sigma Pi brothers appear to be devising a new, ingenious method for that old favorite—basketball.
