Sigma Pi

"Fun and good times" was what Sigma Pi was all about according to Robert Gonzalez. Sigma Pi's great year started with the gentlemen teaming up for Homecoming with the Bruin Belles for the second consecutive year. The pair's float won the Bruin Athletic Club/Joe Valentine Award for their rendition of a Bruin "painting the town blue." According to junior Brad Reichard, "the Bruin Belles are dedicated and fun girls to work with."

The good times continued as the gentlemen kept busy with numerous activities. The members hosted a Halloween party for their little sisters, had exchanges, raids, and also their pledge/active. In the winter, Sigma Pi hosted their annual "Moonshiner" party to benefit the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation. This winter bash was set in a hillbilly style, as partygoers enjoyed some homestyle fun. In the spring came the annual "Orchid Ball," and of course, Mardi Gras.

Sigma Pi also had an active athletic calendar. In the fall they participated in football, volleyball, 3 on 3 basketball, raquetball, and tennis.

According to Gonzalez, the thing that made the fun continue was that "Sigma Pi's brotherhood was the strongest on the row." Each member showed support for and helped each other through hard times. So as the brothers put it, "stick together and let the good times roll!"
